"AdoptAClassroom.org is a trusted partner, committed to carefully considering where their funds will do the most good for our students. We thank AdoptAClassroom.org for their invaluable support of our schools and students."

– Mariano Guzmán, Former Senior Advisor
Office of the Chancellor,
NYC Department of Education

"AdoptAClassroom.org was extremely easy to work with. Their staff was available throughout the entire process to help us get what we needed. Teachers were able to get materials to support student learning that were not within our school budget. We were very impressed with how user-friendly the site is, and with the quality and variety of vendors.

I would absolutely work with AdoptAClassroom.org again. I was very impressed by the professionalism and support I received."

– Alison, School Principal in Sparks, NV

District Partnership

Our goal is to be a good partner for schools and districts.

To support your district's needs, AdoptAClassroom.org offers:

- Informational materials for districts to provide to educators
- Upon request, quarterly or annual reports on fundraising activity in your district, provided total funds raised exceeds $1,000 for the period; to request a report, email info@adoptaclassroom.org
- Adherence to crowdfunding best practices set forth by The School Superintendents Association and the National School Board Association

AdoptAClassroom.org Meets Crowdfunding Best Practices

Crowdfunding Best Practice

AdoptAClassroom.org Policy

Materials, not cash.

Purchase and send resources directly to verified schools, instead of depositing cash into teachers' personal bank accounts.

Teachers and school administrators order what they need in our online marketplace of education and school supply vendors. AdoptAClassroom.org pays every invoice. All items ordered are shipped directly to schools. We verify every school address.

Transparency at every step.

Publicly display details about each material that was funded and explain fees and overhead costs.

Donors receive an itemized list of everything purchased with their donation. Donors are asked for a supplemental donation to cover the technology and staff time required to support operations. However, this fee is completely optional and donors can choose to opt out.

Capture impact.

Teachers should be required to report on how the resources were used in the classroom and how students benefited.

Teachers and school administrators are required to thank every donor who contributes to their classroom or school before ordering materials. They are also asked to complete an impact report to describe how students benefited from the donation.

AdoptAClassroom.org Meets Crowdfunding Best Practices

Crowdfunding Best Practice

School ownership of funded materials.

The school, rather than the teacher, ultimately owns the funded resources.

District visibility and reporting.

Notify principals when items are being shipped to schools, and provide line-by-line reporting of every project to districts upon request.

Student protection.

There should be mechanisms for protecting student privacy, as well as a privacy policy tailored to the unique needs of students in public schools.

AdoptAClassroom.org Policy

Items ordered through AdoptAClassroom.org are considered property of the school.

We can provide schools and districts with itemized reports, listing everything ordered by principals and teachers on AdoptAClassroom.org.

Our policies are designed to protect student privacy. Teachers and school administrators may not share information that identifies students without appropriate permissions. Information or images not in compliance will be removed from our site.

AdoptAClassroom.org is not just a crowdfunding platform.

We are a national nonprofit dedicated to advancing equity in education, one classroom at a time. Our donors and partners work with us to fund classrooms and schools locally and nationally.

Here are some of the ways that we provide funding for classrooms and schools outside of traditional crowdfunding:

- Adoption “Match” Programs

National corporate and foundation partners contribute to AdoptAClassroom.org and ask us to “match” them with classrooms or schools that fit their criteria, such as location, subject area, or Title 1 status. Teachers and school administrators who log in regularly and have strong fundraising pages have the best chance of being selected.

- Sweepstakes and Giveaways

Teachers and school administrators can enter their classroom or school for funding on AdoptAClassroom.org, or for free school supplies.

- Grants

Several times each year we alert school administrators and teachers about Spotlight Fund grant opportunities. Our Spotlight Funds support Art, Inclusion, Racial Equity, and STEM.
